

Notice of Privacy Practices

At JPT protecting your privacy is important to us. We have implemented procedures to safeguard your personal information. This notice describes how Protected Health Information (PHI) about you may be used and disclosed and how you can get access to this information. Please Review It Carefully.

Your Personal and Protected Health Information includes information provided by you, other health care providers and third party payers. This information is used for treatment, payment and health operations.

The following describes the ways we may use and disclose you Protected Health Information:

- We may provide PHI about you to health care providers, other practice personnel or third parties who are involved in the provision, management, or coordination of your treatment and care.
- We may disclose your PHI to any third party you designate in writing.
- We may use or disclose your PHI so that you can collect or make payment for health care services you receive or are going to receive.
- We may disclose your PHI if we believe it is necessary to prevent a serious threat to your health and safety or the health and safety of the public.
- We may disclose your PHI to a government agency if we believe you have been a victim of abuse, neglect or domestic violence. We will make this disclosure if it is necessary to prevent serious harm to you or other potential victims, you are unable to agree due to incapacity, you agree to the disclosure or required by law.
- We may disclose your PHI to a health oversight agency for activities authorized by law.
- We may disclose your PHI as required by a court or administrative order, or under certain circumstances in response to subpoena, discovery request or other legal process.
- We may release your PHI as necessary to comply with laws relating to Worker's Compensation or similar programs that are established by the law to provide benefits for work-related injuries or illness without regard to fault.
- Your PHI may be disclosed for military and veteran's affairs, for national security and intelligence activities or for correctional activities.
- We may use or disclose your PHI when required by law.
- We may use your name, address, phone number, email and other records to contact you with appointment reminder calls, recall postcards, greeting cards, information about physical rehabilitation or other related information that may be of interest to you. This may involve leaving messages on voicemail or with a person who receives the call.

Please note your rights regarding this information:

- You are entitled to inspect and receive copies of your records upon written request.
- You are entitled to make written request to amend your PHI files or put restrictions on certain uses and disclosure of PHI.
- We accommodate any reasonable request, yet we retain the right to deny inclusion of amendments or use restrictions of your PHI.
- You have a right to receive all notices in writing.
- You have the right to request that we do not disclose your information to specific individuals, companies, or organizations.

If you have any questions regarding your HIPAA privacy rights, please contact Jessica Paskalis Blasko, DPT at 603-766-8220 or drjesspt@gmail.com. Or if you feel that your rights have been violated, you may contact:

Department of Health and Human Services
200 Independence Ave SW, Room 509F Washington, DC 20201